Dear Mr. Preet Bharara:

On behalf of the American Association of Physicians of Indian Origin (AAPI), we would like to invite you to be the Guest of Honor at our 34th Annual Convention Banquet, which will be held on Sunday, July 3, 2016, at the Marriott Marquis in New York City.

We are eager to welcome you to address the over 5,000 physician members this historic year.

The banquet will be attended by leading lights of the Indian-American medical fraternity, members of the U.S. House of Representatives and the Senate representing the tristate area, and New York City and State officials, including Senator Hillary Clinton.

As you may be aware, from the very outset Indian-American physicians have been committed to the Affordable Care Act. A number of them in different capacities were involved in its making and implementation.

We would very much look forward to hearing your views about people in public services, Public health issues related to drugs and prescription pills. It is in this context that we look forward to your presence at our 34th Annual Convention.

Founded in 1981, AAPI is the largest ethnic medical society in the U.S., second only to American Medical Association (AMA). AAPI represents the interests of 65,000 physicians of Indian Origin and 25,000 medical students, residents, and fellows of Indian origin. Statistics have shown that 1 in every 7 patients in the U.S. is attended by a physician of Indian origin, and that they greatly influence the American health care system as practitioners, faculty and as medical entrepreneurs.

We look forward to an early confirmation of your presence at the 34th AAPI Annual Convention in New York City.

With warm regards.

Yours sincerely,
